To amend section 3105.18 and to enact section 3105.73 1 of the Revised Code relative to the award of 2 attorney's fees and litigation expenses in certain 3 domestic relations cases. 4

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF OHIO:

Section 1. That section 3105.18 be amended and section 5
3105.73 of the Revised Code be enacted to read as follows: 6

Sec. 3105.18. (A) As used in this section, "spousal support" 7 means any payment or payments to be made to a spouse or former 8 spouse, or to a third party for the benefit of a spouse or a 9 former spouse, that is both for sustenance and for support of the 10 spouse or former spouse. "Spousal support" does not include any 11 payment made to a spouse or former spouse, or to a third party for 12 the benefit of a spouse or former spouse, that is made as part of 13 a division or distribution of property or a distributive award 14 under section 3105.171 of the Revised Code. 15

(B) In divorce and legal separation proceedings, upon the 16 request of either party and after the court determines the 17 division or disbursement of property under section 3105.171 of the 18

Revised Code, the court of common pleas may award reasonable spousal support to either party. During the pendency of any divorce, or legal separation proceeding, the court may award reasonable temporary spousal support to either party.

21
22

An award of spousal support may be allowed in real or personal property, or both, or by decreeing a sum of money, payable either in gross or by installments, from future income or otherwise, as the court considers equitable.

23
25
26

Any award of spousal support made under this section shall terminate upon the death of either party, unless the order containing the award expressly provides otherwise.

27
28
29

(C)(1) In determining whether spousal support is appropriate and reasonable, and in determining the nature, amount, and terms of payment, and duration of spousal support, which is payable either in gross or in installments, the court shall consider all of the following factors:

30
31
32
33
34

(a) The income of the parties, from all sources, including, but not limited to, income derived from property divided, disbursed, or distributed under section 3105.171 of the Revised Code;

35
36
37
38

(b) The relative earning abilities of the parties;

39

(c) The ages and the physical, mental, and emotional conditions of the parties;

40
41

(d) The retirement benefits of the parties;

42

(e) The duration of the marriage;

43

(f) The extent to which it would be inappropriate for a party, because that party will be custodian of a minor child of the marriage, to seek employment outside the home;

44
45
46

(g) The standard of living of the parties established during the marriage;

47
48

(h) The relative extent of education of the parties;	49
(i) The relative assets and liabilities of the parties, including but not limited to any court-ordered payments by the parties;	50 51 52
(j) The contribution of each party to the education, training, or earning ability of the other party, including, but not limited to, any party's contribution to the acquisition of a professional degree of the other party;	53 54 55 56
(k) The time and expense necessary for the spouse who is seeking spousal support to acquire education, training, or job experience so that the spouse will be qualified to obtain appropriate employment, provided the education, training, or job experience, and employment is, in fact, sought;	57 58 59 60 61
(l) The tax consequences, for each party, of an award of spousal support;	62 63
(m) The lost income production capacity of either party that resulted from that party's marital responsibilities;	64 65
(n) Any other factor that the court expressly finds to be relevant and equitable.	66 67
(2) In determining whether spousal support is reasonable and in determining the amount and terms of payment of spousal support, each party shall be considered to have contributed equally to the production of marital income.	68 69 70 71
(D) In an action brought solely for an order for legal separation under section 3105.17 of the Revised Code, any continuing order for periodic payments of money entered pursuant to this section is subject to further order of the court upon changed circumstances of either party.	72 73 74 75 76
(E) If a continuing order for periodic payments of money as alimony is entered in a divorce or dissolution of marriage action	77 78

that is determined on or after May 2, 1986, and before January 1, 79 1991, or if a continuing order for periodic payments of money as 80 spousal support is entered in a divorce or dissolution of marriage 81 action that is determined on or after January 1, 1991, the court 82 that enters the decree of divorce or dissolution of marriage does 83 not have jurisdiction to modify the amount or terms of the alimony 84 or spousal support unless the court determines that the 85 circumstances of either party have changed and unless one of the 86 following applies: 87

(1) In the case of a divorce, the decree or a separation 88 agreement of the parties to the divorce that is incorporated into 89 the decree contains a provision specifically authorizing the court 90 to modify the amount or terms of alimony or spousal support. 91

(2) In the case of a dissolution of marriage, the separation 92 agreement that is approved by the court and incorporated into the 93 decree contains a provision specifically authorizing the court to 94 modify the amount or terms of alimony or spousal support. 95

(F) For purposes of divisions (D) and (E) of this section, a 96 change in the circumstances of a party includes, but is not 97 limited to, any increase or involuntary decrease in the party's 98 wages, salary, bonuses, living expenses, or medical expenses. 99

(G) If any person required to pay alimony under an order made 100 or modified by a court on or after December 1, 1986, and before 101 January 1, 1991, or any person required to pay spousal support 102 under an order made or modified by a court on or after January 1, 103 1991, is found in contempt of court for failure to make alimony or 104 spousal support payments under the order, the court that makes the 105 finding, in addition to any other penalty or remedy imposed, shall 106 assess all court costs arising out of the contempt proceeding 107 against the person and shall require the person to pay any 108 reasonable attorney's fees of any adverse party, as determined by 109 the court, that arose in relation to the act of contempt. 110

~~(H) In divorce or legal separation proceedings, the court may 111 award reasonable attorney's fees to either party at any stage of 112 the proceedings, including, but not limited to, any appeal, any 113 proceeding arising from a motion to modify a prior order or 114 decree, and any proceeding to enforce a prior order or decree, if 115 it determines that the other party has the ability to pay the 116 attorney's fees that the court awards. When the court determines 117 whether to award reasonable attorney's fees to any party pursuant 118 to this division, it shall determine whether either party will be 119 prevented from fully litigating that party's rights and adequately 120 protecting that party's interests if it does not award reasonable 121 attorney's fees. 122~~

Sec. 3105.73. (A) In an action for divorce, dissolution, 123 legal separation, or annulment of marriage or an appeal of that 124 action, a court may award all or part of reasonable attorney's 125 fees and litigation expenses to either party if the court finds 126 the award equitable. In determining whether an award is equitable, 127 the court may consider the parties' marital assets and income, any 128 award of temporary spousal support, the conduct of the parties, 129 and any other relevant factors the court deems appropriate. 130

(B) In any post-decree motion or proceeding that arises out 131 of an action for divorce, dissolution, legal separation, or 132 annulment of marriage or an appeal of that motion or proceeding, 133 the court may award all or part of reasonable attorney's fees and 134 litigation expenses to either party if the court finds the award 135 equitable. In determining whether an award is equitable, the court 136 may consider the parties' income, the conduct of the parties, and 137 any other relevant factors the court deems appropriate, but it may 138 not consider the parties' assets. 139

(C) The court may specify whether the award of attorney's 140 fees and litigation expenses under this section is payable in 141 gross or by installments. The court may make an award of 142 attorney's fees and litigation expenses under this section in 143 addition to making an award of attorney's fees and litigation 144 expenses under any other provision of the Revised Code or of the 145 Rules of Civil Procedure. 146

(D) Nothing in this section prevents an award of attorney's 147 fees and litigation expenses from being designated as spousal 148 support, as defined in section 3105.18 of the Revised Code. 149

Section 2. That existing section 3105.18 of the Revised Code 150 is hereby repealed. 151

Section 3. Section 3105.18 of the Revised Code, as amended by 152 this act, and section 3105.73 of the Revised Code, as enacted by 153 this act, apply to any action for divorce, legal separation, or 154 annulment of marriage or any post-decree action or proceeding 155 arising from a divorce, legal separation, annulment, or 156 dissolution of marriage if any of the following apply: 157

(A) The action or proceeding is brought, or a notice of 158 appeal in the action or proceeding is filed, on or after the 159 effective date of this act. 160

(B) The action or proceeding is brought, or a notice of 161 appeal in the action or proceeding is filed, prior to the 162 effective date of this act, and the action or proceeding is 163 pending in a trial or appellate court on the effective date of 164 this act. 165

(C) Any proceeding arising from a motion to modify a prior 166 order or decree in the action or proceeding is pending in a trial 167 or appellate court on the effective date of this act. 168
