

As Reported by the Senate Environment and Natural Resources Committee

128th General Assembly
Regular Session
2009-2010

S. R. No. 132

Senator Kearney

---

RESOLUTION

To urge the Administrator of the United States 1 Environmental Protection Agency to grant an 2 emergency exemption for the use of the insecticide 3 Propoxur to control bedbugs in Ohio. 4

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF OHIO:

WHEREAS, Bedbugs are blood-feeding insects that infest all 5 areas of homes, day-care centers, senior-care centers, hotels, and 6 hospitals. The nocturnal insects are mostly associated with the 7 bedroom where they emerge at night and bite inhabitants; and 8

WHEREAS, Since 2005, Ohio has seen an exponential increase in 9 the number of bedbug infestations. Currently, Cincinnati is facing 10 an epidemic bedbug infestation, and Columbus is dealing with an 11 ever-growing population of these insects; and 12

WHEREAS, The pesticides that are currently being used to 13 combat these pests are insufficient because the insects may be 14 reduced for a short term after spraying, but the populations 15 quickly rebound after the spraying cycles are completed; and 16

WHEREAS, As a result of the poor performance of the currently 17 approved pesticides, many scientists and health officials are 18 calling on the Administrator of the United States Environmental 19 Protection Agency to approve the use of the insecticide Propoxur 20 to control bedbugs. Research has shown that Propoxur will help 21 permanently destroy bedbug populations that are currently 22 uncontrollable; and 23

WHEREAS, Bedbugs are a threat to the quality of life for many 24 through allergic reactions, severe emotional stress, and economic 25 hardship. In addition, the bedbug infestation has the ability to 26 severely impact Ohio's economy. As knowledge of these infestations 27 spreads, people may hesitate to visit Ohio and patronize Ohio 28 businesses; now therefore be it 29

RESOLVED, That we, the members of the Senate of the 128th 30
General Assembly of the State of Ohio, urge the Administrator of 31 the United States Environmental Protection Agency to grant an 32 emergency exemption for the use of the insecticide Propoxur to 33 control bedbugs in Ohio; and be it further 34

RESOLVED, That the Clerk of the Senate transmit duly 35 authenticated copies of this resolution to the Administrator of 36 the United States Environmental Protection Agency and the news 37 media of Ohio. 38