CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

To condemn Section 1021 of the National Defense 1
Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2012 and to urge 2
the Attorney General of the State of Ohio to bring 3 suit to challenge the constitutionality of Section 4
1021 of the National Defense Authorization Act for 5
Fiscal Year 2012. 6

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF OHIO (THE SENATE CONCURRING):

WHEREAS, On December 15, 2011, the Congress of the United 7
States enacted the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal 8
Year 2012 ("2012 NDAA"), 2011 Public Law 112-81; and 9

WHEREAS, On December 31, 2011, the President of the United 10
States signed the 2012 NDAA; and 11

WHEREAS, Section 1022 of the 2012 NDAA requires the armed 12 forces of the United States to detain, pending disposition under 13
the law of war, any person who is a member of al-Qaeda or an 14

associated force and who participated in the course of planning or 15 carrying out an attack against the United States or its coalition 16 partners; and 17

WHEREAS, Section 1022 of the 2012 NDAA specifically excludes 18 lawful resident aliens on the basis of conduct occurring within 19
the United States and United States citizens from its mandatory 20 detention provisions; and 21

WHEREAS, Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA purports to authorize, 22
but does not require, the President of the United States to 23 utilize the armed forces of the United States to detain persons 24
the President suspects were part of, or substantially supported, 25
al-Qaeda, the Taliban, or associated forces; and 26

WHEREAS, Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA purports to authorize, 27
but does not require, the President of the United States, through 28
the armed forces of the United States, to dispose of such detained 29 persons according to the law of war, which may include, but is not 30 limited to: (1) indefinite detention without charge or trial until 31
the end of hostilities authorized by the 2001 Authorization for 32
Use of Military Force, 2001 Public Law 107-40; (2) prosecution 33 before a military commission; or (3) transfer to a foreign country 34 or foreign entity; and 35

WHEREAS, Unlike Section 1022 of the 2012 NDAA, Section 1021 36
makes no specific exclusion for lawful resident aliens for conduct 37 occurring within the United States or for United States citizens; 38
and 39

WHEREAS, Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA seeks to preserve 40 existing law and authorities pertaining to the detention of United 41 States citizens, lawful resident aliens of the United States, and 42 any other person captured in the United States, but does not 43 specify what such existing law or authorities are; and 44

WHEREAS, The specific exclusion of application to United 45

States citizens and lawful resident aliens contained in Section 46
1022 of the 2012 NDAA, and the absence of such an exclusion in 47
Section 1021 of the NDAA, strongly implies that the provisions of 48
Section 1021 are intended to apply to United States citizens and 49 lawful resident aliens, regardless of whether they are captured in 50
the United States; and 51

WHEREAS, The Office of the President of the United States, 52 under the administrations of both George W. Bush and Barack H. 53
Obama, has asserted that the 2001 Authorization for Use of 54
Military Force allows the Office of the President to detain United 55
States citizens and lawful resident aliens captured in the United 56
States indefinitely without charge; and 57

WHEREAS, The United States Supreme Court has not decided 58 whether the 2001 Authorization for Use of Military Force allows 59
the Office of the President to detain United States citizens and 60 lawful resident aliens captured in the United States indefinitely 61
without charge; and 62

WHEREAS, Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA purports to enlarge 63
the scope of persons the Office of the President may detain 64 indefinitely beyond those responsible for the September 11, 2001, 65 terrorist attacks and those who harbored them, as purportedly 66 authorized by the 2001 Authorization for Use of Military Force, to 67 include, "[a] person who was a part of or substantially supported 68 al-Qaeda, the Taliban, or associated forces that are engaged in 69 hostilities against the United States or its coalition partners, 70 including any person who has committed a belligerent act or has 71 directly supported such hostilities in aid of such enemy forces"; 72
and 73

WHEREAS, United States Senator Carl Levin declared in 74
colloquy on the floor of the United States Senate that the 75 original 2012 NDAA provided that Section 1021, then labeled 76
section 1031, specifically would not apply to United States 77 citizens, but that the Office of the President of the United States requested that such restriction be removed from the 2012 NDAA; and

WHEREAS, During debate within the Senate prior to the passage of the 2012 NDAA, United States Senator Mark Udall introduced an amendment which was intended to forbid the indefinite detention of United States citizens and which was rejected by a vote of 38-60; and

WHEREAS, United States Senator John McCain and United States Senator Lindsey Graham declared in colloquies on the floor of the United States Senate that Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA authorized the indefinite detention of United States citizens captured within the United States by the armed forces of the United States; and

WHEREAS, United States Senator Lindsey Graham declared in colloquy on the floor of the United States Senate that the United States homeland is now part of "the battlefield"; and

WHEREAS, The policing of the citizenry of the United States by the armed forces of the United States, as purportedly authorized by the 2012 NDAA, overturns the Posse Comitatus Act, 18 U.S.C. 1385, and is repugnant to a free society; and

WHEREAS, Section 1021 of the 2012 NDAA, insofar as it purports to authorize (1) the detention without charge of United States citizens and lawful resident aliens captured within the United States, (2) military tribunals for United States citizens and lawful resident aliens captured within the United States, and (3) the transfer of United States citizens and lawful resident aliens captured within the United States to foreign jurisdictions, violates the following rights enshrined in the Constitution of the United States:

The Article I, Section 9, Clause 2 right to seek the writ of habeas corpus;

The First Amendment right to petition the government for a redress of grievances;	109 110
The Fourth Amendment right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures;	111 112

The Sixth Amendment right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation;	121 122
The Sixth Amendment right to confront witnesses;	123
The Sixth Amendment right to counsel;	124
The Eighth Amendment right to be free from excessive bail and fines and from cruel and unusual punishment; and	125 126
The Fourteenth Amendment right to be free from deprivation of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; and	127 128
The Article I, Section 1 right to enjoy and defend life and	138

The Article I, Section 16 right to have remedy by due course of law for an injury to one's person, and to have justice administered without denial or delay; and	159 160 161
WHEREAS, The General Assembly finds that Section 1029 of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013, which purports that the 2012 NDAA, and other recent laws, should not be interpreted to deny the availability of the writ of habeas corpus or to deny any constitutional rights, is not adequate to protect the constitutional rights of Ohio citizens; and	162 163 164 165 166 167
WHEREAS, The members of the General Assembly have taken an	168

oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the 169
Constitution of the State of Ohio; and 170

WHEREAS, The General Assembly opposes any and all rules, 171 laws, regulations, bill language, or executive orders that amount 172 to an overreach of the federal government and that effectively 173 take away civil liberties; and 174

WHEREAS, It is indisputable that the threat of terrorism is 175 real, and that the full force of appropriate and constitutional 176 law must be used to defeat this threat; however, defeating those 177 that engage in terrorism cannot come at the great expense of 178
mitigating basic, fundamental constitutional rights; and 179

WHEREAS, Undermining our own constitutional rights serves 180 only to concede to the terrorists' demands to change the fabric of 181
what made the United States a country of freedom, liberty, and 182 opportunity; now therefore be it 183

RESOLVED, That the General Assembly condemns in no uncertain 184 terms Section 1021 of the National Defense Authorization Act for 185
Fiscal Year 2012 insofar as it purports to (1) repeal the Posse 186
Comitatus Act and authorize the President of the United States to 187 utilize the armed forces of the United States to police United 188
States citizens and lawful resident aliens within the United 189
States; (2) authorize the indefinite detention without charge of 190
United States citizens and lawful resident aliens captured within 191
the United States until the end of hostilities authorized by the 192 2001 Authorization for Use of Military Force; (3) subject American 193 citizens and lawful resident aliens captured within the United 194 States to military tribunals; and (4) transfer American citizens 195 and lawful resident aliens captured within the United States to a 196 foreign country or foreign entity; and be it further 197
