ACT SUMMARY

- Makes the Chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents an appointee of the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, with a five-year term.
- Makes the Board of Regents an advisory board to the Chancellor.
- Transfers the powers and duties of the Board of Regents to the Chancellor and authorizes the Governor to prescribe additional duties for the Chancellor.
- Assigns the following new duties of the Chancellor: (1) adopting rules prescribing procedures for the Chancellor to follow when taking actions associated with the Chancellor's duties and responsibilities, (2) adopting rules prescribing the advisory duties of the Board of Regents, (3) requesting the Board to hold a public hearing on whether to recommend the elimination of a graduate program at a public institution of higher education prior to the Chancellor issuing a final recommendation, and (4) responding to requests for information about higher education from the General Assembly.

- Shortens the terms of members of the Board of Regents to six years.
- Requires the Board of Regents to submit an annual report to the Governor and the General Assembly on the condition of higher education in Ohio and the performance of the Chancellor.
- Requires the Chancellor to make recommendations to the General Assembly and the Governor for improvements in higher education.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Appointment of Chancellor

(R.C. 3333.03; Section 5)

The act makes the Chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents no longer subject to appointment by the Board. Instead, under the act, the Chancellor is appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and is a member of the Governor's cabinet.¹ The Governor must appoint the Chancellor within 30 days after the act's effective date. Although the Chancellor previously did not have a fixed term, the Chancellor serves a five-year term under the act and may be reappointed. The five-year term begins on the day the Senate confirms the Governor's initial appointee.

The act further specifies that the Governor prescribes the Chancellor's duties in addition to the Chancellor's duties prescribed by law, and fixes the Chancellor's compensation. However, the act prohibits the Chancellor from assuming any duties prescribed by the Governor or law until the Senate has consented to the Chancellor's appointment. In the case of the initial gubernatorial appointment, the act directs the Chancellor in office on the act's effective date to remain in office and exercise all powers prescribed by law, including the ¹ While not statutorily named the "Governor's cabinet," the group of executive officers appointed by the Governor (with the advice and consent of the Senate) traditionally functions as the Governor's cabinet (R.C. 121.03, not in the act). However, there does not appear to be any law that prevents the Governor from including other officers in the cabinet.

Chancellor's new powers under the act (see below), until the Senate confirms the Governor's appointee.²

Under the act, the Governor may remove the Chancellor only for (1) inefficiency or dereliction of duty, (2) a violation of the Ethics Law, (3) failure to file a financial disclosure statement with the Ohio Ethics Commission or filing of a false one, or (4) corruption. Removal of the Chancellor does not require the advice and consent of the Senate.

Transfer of Board of Regents' powers and duties

(R.C. 3333.01(A) and 3333.031; Section 3)

The act transfers the powers and duties prescribed by statute for the Board of Regents to the Chancellor. It also specifies that the Board is an advisory board to the Chancellor.³ Thus, except when a separate statute prescribes a specific duty for the Board of Regents, its purpose is to provide advice to the Chancellor, presumably upon request of the Chancellor. Accordingly, the Chancellor, rather than the Board of Regents, is responsible for deciding how to guide and coordinate higher education policy within the parameters set by law.

The act amends several sections in R.C. Chapter 3333. that pertained to the powers of the Board. It also states that "whenever the term 'Ohio Board of Regents' is used, referred to, or designated in any statute, rule, contract, grant, or other document, the use, reference, or designation shall be construed to mean the 'Chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents'" unless it relates to the Board's advisory duties or unless another section of law expressly provides otherwise. See APPENDIX 1 for a list of many of the former statutory powers and duties of the Board of Regents.

The act does not affect the powers and duties prescribed by separate statutes for the Chancellor. See APPENDIX 2 for a list of many of the continuing statutory powers and duties of the Chancellor.

² In the case of future appointments, the act requires the Chancellor whose term is expiring to remain in office past the end of the term until a successor takes office or for 60 days, whichever occurs first (R.C. 3333.03(B)). Presumably, the Senate would have to confirm the Governor's next appointee prior to the end of that 60-day period to avoid a situation in which no one is authorized to exercise the powers of the office.

³ Section 3 of the act transfers to the Chancellor the assets and liabilities formerly held in the name of the Board of Regents.

New duties

(R.C. 3333.04(W) and (X))

Besides transferring the former duties of the Board of Regents to the Chancellor, the act establishes two new ones. First, the Chancellor must adopt rules establishing advisory duties and responsibilities of the Board of Regents that are not otherwise prescribed by law. Second, the Chancellor must respond to requests for information about higher education from members of the General Assembly and direct staff to conduct necessary research or analysis for this purpose.

Procedures for actions by Chancellor

(R.C. 3333.04(O))

Along with the Board of Regents' duties and responsibilities, the Chancellor assumes the Board's authority to adopt rules to carry them out. However, the act further requires the rules to prescribe procedures for the Chancellor to follow when taking actions associated with those duties and responsibilities. The rules must indicate which types of actions are subject to the procedures. The Chancellor must follow the new procedures in addition to any other procedures required by statute or administrative rule that are applicable to a particular action, but those other procedures prevail in the case of a conflict. The new procedures must include the following:

- (1) Provision for public notice of the proposed action;
- (2) An opportunity for public comment on the proposed action, which may involve a public hearing on the action by the Board of Regents;
- (3) Methods for parties that may be affected by the proposed action to submit feedback during the public comment period;
- (4) Submission of recommendations from the Board of Regents regarding the proposed action, at the Chancellor's request;
- (5) Written publication of the final action taken by the Chancellor and the Chancellor's rationale for the action; and
- (6) A timeline for the process described in (1) to (5) above.

Recommendations for elimination of graduate programs

(R.C. 3333.04(F))

One of the Chancellor's responsibilities under the act (assigned to the Board of Regents by prior law) is to recommend graduate or professional programs maintained by public institutions of higher education that could be eliminated because they are unnecessarily duplicative or for other sufficient cause. The act further specifies that, prior to recommending a program for elimination, the Chancellor must request the Board of Regents to hold at least one public hearing on the matter and advise the Chancellor on whether the program should be recommended for elimination. After the hearing, the Board must make a recommendation to the Chancellor, but the Chancellor is not required to follow the Board's recommendation in making a final recommendation about eliminating a program. As the Board of Regents could do under former law, the Chancellor may exclude students enrolled in a program the Chancellor has recommended for elimination when determining the amount of state instructional subsidies paid to an institution of higher education.

Organization of Board of Regents

Terms

(R.C. 3333.01)

The Board of Regents consists of nine members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate.⁴ Under law continued by the act until September 20, 2008, the terms of the Board members are nine years. No member may serve more than one full nine-year term. Beginning September 20, 2008, the act shortens the terms to six years and allows members to serve two full six-year terms. It also changes the appointment schedule so that the Governor appoints three regents once every two years, instead of once every three years.

To make the transition to the shorter terms, the act restructures the terms of six of the nine sitting members of the Board, as shown in the table below. Since those six members (the groups whose terms were previously set to expire in 2011 or 2014) will not complete a full nine-year term due to the restructuring, they presumably will be eligible for reappointment to a new six-year term.

⁴ In addition, the chairpersons of the House and Senate education committees are ex officio, nonvoting members of the Board.

Prior Expiration Date	Act's Expiration Date	Expiration of Successor's Term
September 20, 2008	September 20, 2008	September 20, 2014
September 20, 2011	September 20, 2010	September 20, 2016
September 20, 2014	September 20, 2012	September 20, 2018

* Three members' terms expire in each year.

Meetings

(R.C. 3333.02)

Former law required the Board of Regents to meet at least four times each year. The act specifies that the Board must meet at least quarterly, which ensures that the meetings occur on a regular schedule. Also, to reflect the Board's role as an advisory body, the act eliminates the Board's authority to adopt administrative rules for conducting its meetings and directs the Board to adopt "standards" instead.

Annual report by Board

(R.C. 3333.032)

The act assigns one new duty to the Board of Regents, which is to submit to the Governor and the General Assembly an annual report on the condition of higher education in Ohio and the performance of the Chancellor. This report is the Board's only responsibility under the act other than acting as an advisory body to the Chancellor.

Chancellor recommendations

(Section 4)

The act requires the Chancellor, by September 28, 2007, to report to the General Assembly and the Governor with recommendations for improvements in higher education. Specifically, the Chancellor's recommendations must address (1) making college more affordable and accessible, (2) encouraging graduates to remain in the state after earning their degrees, and (3) maximizing higher education as a driver of the state's economy. In addition, the report must include a plan as to how to appropriately utilize the Board of Regents to enhance higher education in Ohio.

Background

Board of Regents

Formerly, the Board of Regents guided the development of higher education policy and coordinated policy implementation, but it did not exercise direct managerial control over institutions of higher education. Management of the institutions is left to their separate boards of trustees, which generally have the power to make all decisions necessary to carry out their respective educational missions.

Among the Board's primary responsibilities were making policy recommendations, collecting data, providing fiscal oversight of public institutions of higher education, approving changes to institutional programs, and administering student financial aid programs. In distributing state funds to institutions of higher education, the Board of Regents established procedures for calculating the key components of the State Share of Instruction, based on a formula enacted by the General Assembly in each biennial budget act. See APPENDIX 1 for a list of many of the former statutory powers and duties of the Board of Regents.

Chancellor

The Board of Regents previously was required to appoint and prescribe the duties for a Chancellor who, as the administrative officer of the Board, served at the Board's pleasure.⁵ Continuing law states that the Chancellor is responsible for hiring and fixing the compensation of all professional, administrative, and clerical employees and staff necessary to assist the Chancellor in the performance of the Chancellor's duties.⁶ Continuing law also specifies that the Chancellor must be a person qualified by training and experience to understand the problems and needs of the state in the field of higher education and to devise programs, plans, and methods of solving the problems and meeting the needs. It further specifies that neither the Chancellor nor any staff member or employee simultaneously may be a trustee, officer, or employee of any public or private college or university.⁷

⁵ The act removes statutory language designating the Chancellor as the administrative officer of the Board of Regents.

⁶ Under prior law, the Chancellor also was responsible for hiring and fixing the compensation of all necessary employees and staff for the Board of Regents.

⁷ R.C. 3333.03.

See APPENDIX 2 for a list of many of the statutory powers and duties of the Chancellor retained by the act.
