ACT SUMMARY

- Replaces terms in the Revised Code that refer to persons with certain conditions.

CONTENT AND OPERATION

Background

The Revised Code used a number of terms to refer to persons with certain conditions. These terms included "lunatic," "idiot," "imbecile," "drunkard," "deaf and dumb," and "insane." Many of the sections that contained these words had not been amended since the Code was reorganized in 1953.

* The Legislative Service Commission had not received formal notification of the effective date at the time this analysis was prepared. Additionally, the analysis may not reflect action taken by the Governor.

The act

The act eliminates the majority of terms described above in former law and, in most (though not all) cases, replaces them with the term, "incompetent person."<sup>1</sup> The act defines this term to mean "a person who is so mentally impaired as a result of a mental or physical illness or disability, mental retardation, or as a result of chronic substance abuse, that the person is incapable of taking proper care of the person's self or property or fails to provide for the person's family or other persons for whom the person is charged by law to provide." This definition is the same definition of "incompetent" in R.C. 2111.01 (the law governing guardianships), except that it excludes "any person confined to a correctional institution within this state."

The table, below, compares the terms in former law with the terms used in the act. In a few sections, no replacement terms were added because the former language was unnecessary or repetitive and was, therefore, eliminated.

Comparison table--former law vs. the act

| Sections with terms referring to persons with certain conditions | Former law      | The act  |

| 711.23 Plats--application for vacation and assessment of damages        | Persons of insane mind | Incompetent person (new definition) <sup>3</sup>        |

<sup>1</sup> The act does not change the definition of "incompetent" used in R.C. 2111.37 and 2111.47 because continuing law under R.C. 2111.01(D) defines "incompetent" for purposes of R.C. Chapters 2111. through 2131. to mean "any person who is so mentally impaired as a result of a mental or physical illness or disability, or mental retardation, or as a result of chronic substance abuse, that the person is incapable of taking proper care of the person's self or property or fails to provide for the person's family or other persons for whom the person is charged by law to provide, or any person confined to a correctional institution within this state."

<sup>2</sup> The terms, "insane" and "lunatic," are not used in Title VII. Therefore, there is no need for them to be defined in R.C. 701.01.

<sup>3</sup> The act defines "incompetent person" as "a person who is so mentally impaired as a result of a mental or physical illness or disability, mental retardation, or as a result of chronic substance abuse, that the person is incapable of taking proper care of the person's

As stated above, this definition is the same as the definition of "incompetent" in R.C. 2111.01 (law governing guardianships), except that it excludes "any person confined to a correctional institution within this state."

<sup>4</sup> R.C. 2111.01(D) defines "incompetent" in continuing law for purposes of R.C. Chapters 2111. through 2131. to mean "any person who is so mentally impaired as a result of a mental or physical illness or disability, or mental retardation, or as a result of chronic substance abuse, that the person is incapable of taking proper care of the person's self or property or fails to provide for the person's family or other persons for whom the person is charged by law to provide, or any person confined to a correctional institution within this state."

<sup>5</sup> R.C. 2317.021 also defines "incompetent" for purposes of R.C. 2317.02 (law governing privileged communications) and R.C. 2317.03 (law governing the limitations on
