CONTENT AND OPERATION

Background

The Division of Industrial Compliance in the Department of Commerce has general authority to inspect plumbing in nonresidential buildings. This authority does not apply in municipal corporations that are certified by the state Board of Building Standards to inspect plumbing or in health districts that employ one or more plumbing inspectors. (R.C. 3703.01(A)(1), (2), and (3) and (B)(1)(a) and (b).)

Existing law does not expressly authorize a county building department to inspect plumbing, and there is no provision for a health district to contract with a board of county commissioners for its county building department to inspect plumbing within the health district. A recent opinion of the Ohio Attorney General (2006 Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2006-040) concluded that:

absent express statutory authority, the board of health of a general health district may not, pursuant to contract or otherwise, delegate to a county its duty to perform plumbing inspections. In addition, certification of a county building department and its personnel by the Board of Building Standards under R.C. 3781.10(E)(1) or (2) does not authorize such department or its personnel to perform plumbing inspections.

Plumbing inspection under the bill

Contract with a county building department

The bill enables a board of health of a health district to enter into a contract with a board of county commissioners for the county building department to inspect plumbing in buildings within the health district. The contract may designate that the county department inspect either residential or nonresidential buildings, or both types of buildings, so long as the department employs a plumbing inspector certified as the bill requires to inspect the types of buildings the contract designates. (R.C. 3703.01(C)(1) and 3781.03(C).)

The bill specifies that the Division of Industrial Compliance may not inspect plumbing or collect plumbing inspection fees in the types of buildings in a health district where the county building department is authorized to inspect those types of buildings. (R.C. 3703.01(B)(1)(c).) The bill also specifies that a county building department has no authority to inspect plumbing or to collect plumbing inspection fees unless it is authorized to do so pursuant to a contract with a board of health of a health district. (R.C. 3703.01(B)(2).) And a county building department cannot inspect plumbing or collect plumbing inspection fees in municipal corporations that are certified by the state Board of Building Standards to inspect plumbing (R.C. 3703.01(B)(1)(a)).

Contract with another health district

The bill authorizes the board of health of a health district to enter into a contract with the board of health of another health district to authorize that board to inspect plumbing in buildings within the contracting board's district. The contract may designate the inspection of residential, nonresidential, or both types of buildings, so long as the inspector is certified for the type of building the contract designates. (R.C. 3703.01(C)(2).)

The bill specifies that the Division of Industrial Compliance may not inspect plumbing or collect plumbing inspection fees in health districts that have entered into a contract with another health district to inspect its plumbing. (R.C. 3703.01(B)(1)(d).)

Certification required

The bill requires the Superintendent of Industrial Compliance to adopt rules prescribing minimum qualifications for certifying or recertifying plumbing inspectors employed by a county building department under the contracts authorized by the bill in the same manner as current law requires for plumbing inspectors of a health district. Accordingly, all plumbing inspectors must be certified to conduct plumbing inspections for health districts regardless of whether the health district employs its own certified plumbing inspectors or contracts for inspection services from a county building department or another health district. (R.C. 3703.01(B)(1)(b), (B)(4), (C)(1), (C)(2), and (D).)
