CONTENT AND OPERATION

Dogs Law provisions governing kennels

Under current law, the owner of a kennel of dogs must apply for the registration of the kennel and pay to the county auditor a $10 registration fee for the kennel unless a greater fee has been established by the applicable board of county commissioners (R.C. 955.04 and 955.14, not in the bill). The fees are deposited into the county's dog and kennel fund (R.C. 955.20). Current law defines "kennel owner" as a person, partnership, firm, company, or corporation professionally engaged in the business of breeding dogs for hunting or for sale. The bill instead defines "dog kennel" or "kennel" for purposes of the Dogs Law as an establishment that keeps, houses, and maintains adult dogs for the purpose of breeding the dogs for a fee or other consideration received through a sale, exchange, or lease and that is not a regulated dog breeding kennel that is licensed under the bill. (R.C. 955.02.) Thus, while retaining county registration of certain dog kennels, the bill distinguishes those kennels from regulated dog breeding kennels that must be licensed under the bill's new regulatory program (see "Regulated dog breeding kennels," below). It also incorporates regulated dog breeding kennels in certain provisions of the Dogs Law as discussed below.

Current law prohibits the owner of a dog, except a dog constantly confined to a registered kennel, from failing to require the dog to wear, at all times, a valid tag issued in connection with a certificate of registration. The bill applies that exception to a dog that is constantly confined to a regulated dog breeding kennel that is licensed under the bill. (R.C. 955.10.)

Similarly, under current law, a county dog warden and the warden's deputies must seize and impound on sight all dogs found running at large and all dogs more than three months of age found not wearing a valid registration tag. Exceptions include any dog that wears a valid registration tag and is kept constantly confined in a registered dog kennel. The bill applies that exception to a dog that is kept constantly confined in a regulated dog breeding kennel that is licensed under the bill. (R.C. 955.12.)

Kennel Control Authority

The bill creates the Kennel Control Authority for the purpose of administering the bill and rules adopted under it by the director of the Authority (see "Rules," below) and ensuring the welfare and humane treatment of dogs and their offspring in accordance with the bill and rules adopted under it. The Kennel Control Authority Board created by the bill must designate a suitable individual as director of the Authority, who must serve at the Board's pleasure (see "Kennel Control Authority Board," below). The bill authorizes the director to contract with any political subdivision of the state to assist the director and the director's authorized representatives in administering and enforcing the bill and the rules adopted under it. (R.C. 956.02.)

Regulated dog breeding kennels

Under the bill, a person is prohibited from operating a regulated dog breeding kennel in this state without a regulated dog breeding kennel license issued by the director of the Kennel Control Authority in accordance with the bill and rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.04(A)(1)). The director is precluded from issuing a license unless the director determines that the applicant will operate or will continue to operate the regulated dog breeding kennel in accordance with the bill and rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.04(A)(2)).

The bill defines "regulated dog breeding kennel" as an establishment that keeps, houses, and maintains adult breeding dogs that produce either at least nine litters of puppies or at least 40 puppies in any given calendar year and, in return for a fee or other consideration, sells, exchanges, or leases adult dogs or puppies (R.C. 956.01(F)). It defines "adult dog" as a dog that is 12 months of age or older and "puppy" as a dog that is under 12 months of age (R.C. 956.01(A) and (L)). Under the bill, "breeding dog" means an unneutered, unspayed dog that is primarily harbored or housed on property that is the dog's primary residence (R.C. 956.01(E)).

In determining whether an establishment is a regulated dog breeding kennel requiring a license under the bill, the director must determine if, in any given year, the establishment is a regulated dog breeding kennel as defined by the bill. All facilities that are located at an individual postal address must be licensed as one regulated dog breeding kennel. Not more than one license must be issued for any given postal address. (R.C. 956.04(B).)

A person who is proposing to operate a new regulated dog breeding kennel, at least 90 days prior to the operation of the kennel, must submit an application for a license to the director. The application must be submitted in the form and with the information required by rules adopted under the bill and must include with it at least all of the following:

(1) An affidavit signed under oath or solemn affirmation of the number of adult dogs that are kept, housed, and maintained by the applicant at the location that is the subject of the application;

(2) An estimate of the number of puppies to be kept, housed, and maintained and of the number of litters of puppies or total number of puppies to be produced during the annual term of the license;

(3) Photographic evidence documenting the facilities where dogs will be kept, housed, and maintained by the applicant. The Kennel Control Authority may conduct an inspection of the facilities that are the subject of an application in addition to reviewing photographic evidence submitted by an applicant for a license.

(4) A signed release permitting the performance of a background investigation regarding the applicant in accordance with rules adopted under the bill; and

(5) The names and addresses and any other identifying information required by rules adopted under the bill of all persons who will have custody of or control over dogs kept by the applicant. (R.C. 956.04(C).)

During the month of December, but before the first day of January of the next year, a person who is proposing to continue the operation of a regulated dog breeding kennel must obtain a license for the kennel from the director for the following year. The person must submit the application to the director on or before the last day of November of the year preceding the year for which the license is sought. (R.C. 956.04(D).)

The bill requires the owner or operator of a regulated dog breeding kennel that is in operation on the bill's effective date to submit to the director an application for a regulated dog breeding kennel license not later than three months after that date. The director must issue or deny the application within 90 days after the receipt of the completed application. (R.C. 956.04(E).)

A person who has received a regulated dog breeding kennel license under the bill, upon sale or other disposition of the regulated dog breeding kennel, may have the license transferred to another person with the consent of the director, provided that the transferee otherwise qualifies to be licensed as a regulated dog breeding kennel under the bill and rules adopted under it and does not have a certified unpaid debt to the state (R.C. 956.04(F)).

An applicant for a regulated dog breeding kennel license must demonstrate that the regulated dog breeding kennel that is the subject of the application complies with the standards of care and other standards established under the bill (see "Standards of care," below). The bill prohibits a person from being licensed as or operating a regulated dog breeding kennel who has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating any of specified statutes prohibiting animal cruelty or animal fighting or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law or has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating more than once the statute that prohibits domestic violence or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law. (R.C. 956.04(G) and (H).)

Regulated dog intermediaries

The bill prohibits a person from acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary in this state without a regulated dog intermediary license issued by the director of the Kennel Control Authority in accordance with the bill and rules adopted under it. (R.C. 956.05(A)(1).) The director is precluded from issuing a license unless the director determines that the applicant will act as or perform the functions of a regulated dog intermediary in accordance with the bill and rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.05(A)(2)).

Under the bill, "regulated dog intermediary" means a person who buys, sells, offers to sell, donates, gives, or exchanges more than nine dogs annually in this state or who sells or gives one or more dogs to a pet store annually. It does not include an animal rescue for dogs (see "Animal rescues for dogs," below), an animal shelter for dogs,¹ a humane society established under state law, a medical kennel for dogs, a research kennel for dogs (see "Exemptions," below), or a veterinarian.² (R.C. 956.01(G).)

A person who is proposing to act as or perform the functions of a regulated dog intermediary must submit an application for a license to the director. During the month of December, but before the first day of January of the next year, a person who is proposing to continue to act as or perform the functions of a regulated dog intermediary must obtain a license from the director for the following year. The person must submit the application to the director on or before the last day of November of the year preceding the year for which the license is sought. (R.C. 956.05(B).)

A person who is acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary on the bill's effective date must submit to the director an application for a regulated dog intermediary license not later than three months after that date. The director must issue or deny the application within 90 days after the receipt of the completed application. (R.C. 956.05(C).)

The bill prohibits a person from being licensed as or acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary who has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating any of specified statutes prohibiting animal cruelty or animal fighting or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law or has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating more than once the statute prohibiting domestic violence or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law (R.C. 956.05(D)).

¹ The bill defines "animal shelter for dogs" as a facility that keeps, houses, and maintains dogs and that is operated by a humane society established under state law, animal welfare society, society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, or other nonprofit organization that is devoted to the welfare, protection, and humane treatment of dogs and other animals (R.C. 956.01(C)).

² Under the bill, "veterinarian" means a veterinarian who is licensed under state law (R.C. 956.01(N)).

Animal rescues for dogs

The bill prohibits a person from operating an animal rescue for dogs without a license to do so issued by the director of the Kennel Control Authority in accordance with rules adopted under the bill (R.C. 956.06(A)). The bill defines "animal rescue for dogs" as an individual or organization recognized by the director of the Kennel Control Authority that keeps, houses, and maintains dogs and that is dedicated to the welfare, health, safety, and protection of dogs, provided that the individual or organization does not operate for profit, does not sell dogs for a profit, does not breed dogs, and does not purchase more than nine dogs in any given calendar year unless the dogs are purchased from a dog warden, a humane society, or another animal rescue for dogs. "Animal rescue for dogs" includes an individual or organization that offers dogs for adoption and charges reasonable adoption fees approved by the director of the Authority under the bill to cover the costs of the individual or organization, including, but not limited to, costs related to spaying or neutering dogs. (R.C. 956.01(B).)

Under the bill, no license application fee must be charged to an animal rescue for dogs. The director must maintain a database of all persons that are licensed to operate an animal rescue for dogs in Ohio. (R.C. 956.06(A).)

The bill prohibits a person from being licensed as or operating an animal rescue for dogs who has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating any of specified statutes prohibiting animal cruelty or animal fighting or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law or has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating more than once the statute prohibiting domestic violence or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law (R.C. 956.06(B)).

Exemptions

Medical kennels for dogs, research kennels for dogs, and veterinarians are not required to obtain a license under the bill or comply with any other requirements of the bill and rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.011). The bill defines "medical kennel for dogs" as a facility that is maintained by a veterinarian and operated primarily for the treatment of sick or injured dogs and "research kennel for dogs" as a facility housing dogs that is maintained exclusively for research purposes (R.C. 956.01(J) and (M)).

Application fees; registration of boarding kennels

Under the bill, a person who is applying for a license to operate a regulated dog breeding kennel or to act as or perform the functions of a regulated dog intermediary must include with the application for a license a nonrefundable license application fee as follows:

For a regulated dog breeding kennel:

(1) $150 if breeding dogs at the kennel annually produce at least nine, but not more than 15 litters or, if fewer than nine litters are produced, at least 40 puppies are produced in a calendar year at the kennel;

(2) $250 if breeding dogs at the kennel annually produce at least 16, but not more than 25 litters;

(3) $350 if breeding dogs at the kennel annually produce at least 26, but not more than 35 litters;

(4) $500 if breeding dogs at the kennel annually produce at least 36, but not more than 45 litters; or

(5) $750 if breeding dogs at the kennel annually produce 46 or more litters.

For a regulated dog intermediary, $500. (R.C. 956.07(A).)

Additionally, the bill requires the owner of a boarding kennel to register the boarding kennel with the director of the Kennel Control Authority by paying an annual fee of $50 (R.C. 956.07(B)). It defines "boarding kennel" as an establishment operating for profit that keeps, houses, and maintains dogs solely for the purpose of providing shelter, care, and feeding of the dogs in return for a fee or other consideration (R.C. 956.01(D)).

The director must transmit money collected from application and registration fees to the Treasurer of State to be credited to the Regulated Dog Breeding Kennel Control License Fund created by the bill (see "Regulated Dog Breeding Kennel Control License Fund," below). However, the Treasurer of State must transfer to the county in which a regulated dog breeding kennel is or will be located $50 of the application fee received from the person who is applying for a license to operate the kennel or an amount equal to the fee charged on January 1, 2009, by the county for the registration of a kennel under the Dogs Law (see above), whichever is greater. The county auditor must deposit the money in the county's dog and kennel fund. (R.C. 956.07(C).) Money so received by a county is subject to audit by the Auditor of State (R.C. 955.20).

Application denial; license suspension and revocation

The bill requires the Director of the Kennel Control Authority to deny an application for a license that is submitted under the bill for any of the following reasons:

(1) The applicant for the license has violated any provision of the bill or a rule adopted under it;

(2) The applicant has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating any of specified statutes prohibiting animal cruelty or animal fighting or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law or has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to violating more than once the statute prohibiting domestic violence or an equivalent municipal ordinance, law of another state, or federal law; or

(3) The director determines that the applicant does not have the expertise or capacity to comply with the bill or rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.15(A)).

Additionally, the director may suspend or revoke a license issued under the bill for violation of any provision of the bill or a rule adopted or order issued under it (R.C. 956.15(B)).

An application or a license cannot be denied, suspended, or revoked without a written order of the director stating the findings on which the denial, suspension, or revocation is based. A copy of the order must be sent to the applicant or license holder by certified mail or may be provided to the applicant or license holder by personal service. In addition, the person to whom a denial, suspension, or revocation applies may request an adjudication hearing under the Administrative Procedure Act; the director must comply with such a request. The determination of the director at an adjudication hearing may be appealed in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, except that the determination may be appealed only to the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court. (R.C. 956.15(C).)

Rules

The bill requires the director of the Kennel Control Authority to adopt rules in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act establishing all of the following:

(1) Requirements and procedures governing regulated dog breeding kennels, including the licensing and inspection of and record keeping by regulated dog breeding kennels, in addition to the requirements and procedures established by the bill. The rules must require that a regulated dog breeding kennel be assigned a license number and that a regulated dog breeding kennel provide the license number and the applicable vendor number assigned by the Department of Taxation whenever it solicits business or it is solicited for business. In addition, the rules must require any other person to provide such a vendor number when soliciting to sell an adult dog or a puppy or when solicited for such a sale. (R.C. 956.03(A).)

(2) Requirements and procedures for conducting background investigations of each applicant for a regulated dog breeding kennel license issued under the bill in order to determine if the applicant has been convicted of or pleaded guilty to any of the offenses specified in the bill the violation of which precludes a person from being licensed (see above). The rules must provide that background investigations must be conducted solely by the Attorney General on behalf of the Kennel Control Authority. The rules must establish procedures for annually updating background investigation information regarding an applicant after an initial background investigation has been conducted with respect to an initial application for a license. (R.C. 956.03(B).)

(3) Requirements and procedures governing regulated dog intermediaries, including the licensing of and record keeping by regulated dog intermediaries, in addition to the requirements and procedures established by the bill. The rules must require that a regulated dog intermediary be assigned a license number and that a regulated dog intermediary provide the license number and the applicable vendor number assigned by the Department of Taxation whenever it solicits business or it is solicited for business. (R.C. 956.03(C).)

(4) Requirements and procedures governing animal rescues for dogs, including the licensing and inspection of and record keeping by animal rescues for dogs, in addition to the requirements and procedures established by the bill (R.C. 956.03(D));

(5) The form of applications for licenses issued under the bill and the information that is required to be submitted in the applications. The rules must require an animal rescue for dogs to provide in an application for a license the name and address of each foster home that it utilizes. (R.C. 956.03(E).)

(6) A requirement that each regulated dog breeding kennel submit to the director, with an application for a regulated dog breeding kennel license, evidence of insurance or, in the alternative, evidence of a surety bond payable to the Authority to ensure compliance with the bill and rules adopted under it. The face value of the insurance coverage or bond must be in the following amounts:

(a) $5,000 for regulated dog breeding kennels keeping, housing, and maintaining not more than 25 adult dogs;

(b) $10,000 for regulated dog breeding kennels keeping, housing, and maintaining at least 26 adult dogs, but not more than 50 adult dogs; and

(c) $50,000 for regulated dog breeding kennels keeping, housing, and maintaining more than 50 adult dogs.

The rules must require that the insurance be payable to the state or that the surety bond be subject to redemption by the state, as applicable, upon a suspension or revocation of a regulated dog breeding kennel license for the purpose of paying for the maintenance and care of dogs that are seized or otherwise impounded from the kennel in accordance with the bill. (R.C. 956.03(F).)

(7) Procedures for inspections conducted under the bill in addition to the procedures established by the bill (see "Inspectors and inspections," below), and procedures for making records of the inspections (R.C. 956.03(G));

(8) Requirements and procedures that are necessary to implement and enforce the requirements pertaining to pet stores that are established by the bill (see "Pet stores; other sales of dogs," below) (R.C. 956.03(H));

(9) Both of the following:

(a) A requirement that an in-state retailer or direct seller of a puppy or adult dog provide to the purchaser the complete name, address, and telephone number of all regulated dog breeding kennels, regulated dog intermediaries, and private owners that kept, housed, or maintained the puppy or adult dog prior to its coming into the possession of the retailer or direct seller, or proof that the puppy or adult dog was acquired through an animal rescue for dogs, animal shelter for dogs, or humane society, or a valid health certificate from the state of origin pertaining to the puppy or adult dog; and

(b) A requirement that an out-of-state retailer or direct seller of a puppy or adult dog that is conducting business in this state provide to the purchaser a valid health certificate from the state of origin pertaining to the puppy or adult dog and the complete name, address, and telephone number of all dog breeding kennels, sellers, and private owners that kept, housed, or maintained the puppy or adult dog prior to its coming into the possession of the retailer or direct seller or proof that the puppy or adult dog was acquired through an animal rescue for dogs, animal shelter for dogs, or humane society in this state or another state (R.C. 956.03(I));

(10) A requirement that a person who advertises the sale of a puppy or adult dog include with the advertisement the person's vendor number assigned by the Tax Commissioner if the sale of the puppy or dog is subject to the Sales Tax Law (R.C. 956.03(J));

(11) Requirements and procedures governing the registration of litters under the bill (see "Registration of litters," below) (R.C. 956.03(K));

(12) A requirement that a licensed regulated dog breeding kennel and a licensed regulated dog intermediary comply with the Sales Tax Law. The rules must authorize the director to suspend or revoke a license for failure to comply with that Law. The director must work in conjunction with the Tax Commissioner for the purposes of those rules. (R.C. 956.03(L).)

(13) Any other requirements and procedures that are determined by the Commission³ to be necessary for the administration and enforcement of the bill and rules adopted under it (R.C. 956.03(M)).

Standards of care

Under the bill, no person operating a regulated dog breeding kennel or acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary must do any of the following:

(1) Fail to keep or confine a dog in accordance with one of the following:

(a) In an indoor enclosure with an attached outdoor enclosure that is accessible to the dog, provided that not more than three dogs are kept or confined in the indoor or outdoor enclosure at any one time. For dogs that weigh less than 20 pounds, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by four feet with an attached outdoor enclosure of at least four feet by eight feet. For dogs that weigh at least 20 pounds, but less than 51 pounds, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by six feet with an attached outdoor enclosure of at least four feet by twelve feet. For dogs that weigh 51 pounds or more, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by eight feet with an attached outdoor enclosure of at least four feet by sixteen feet.

(b) In an indoor enclosure with no attached outdoor enclosure, but with an exercise period in an outdoor enclosure that is provided at least two hours each day, provided that not more than three dogs are kept or confined in the indoor or outdoor enclosure at any one time. For dogs that weigh less than 20 pounds, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by four feet, and outdoor exercise must take place in an enclosed area that is at least ten feet by ten feet. For dogs that weigh at least 20 pounds, but less than 51 pounds, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by six feet, and outdoor exercise must take place in an enclosed area that is at least 20 feet by 20 feet. For dogs that weigh 51 pounds or more, the indoor enclosure must be at least four feet by eight feet, and outdoor exercise must take place in an enclosed area that is at least 40 feet by 40 feet.

³ "Director" or "Authority" presumably is intended here.

For purposes of complying with item (1)(b), an indoor enclosure may be utilized for exercise when weather does not permit access to an outdoor enclosure. However, the indoor exercise enclosure must comply with the size requirements that are established by the bill for outdoor enclosures that are used for exercise. In addition, exercise is not required for a dog that has an illness and for which exercise would be detrimental to recovering from the illness. Finally, enclosures may be stacked on top of one another, but there must be a nonporous barrier separating the floor and ceiling of stacked enclosures.

(2) Keep or confine dogs in an enclosure, crate, or cage that are incompatible based on observation (R.C. 956.08(B)). Under the bill, "enclosure, crate, or cage" does not include an enclosure, crate, or cage that is used during the transportation of a dog or used for medical purposes (R.C. 956.01(H)).

(3) Keep or confine more than three adult dogs in one enclosure, crate, or cage;

(4) Keep or confine a female dog in heat in the same enclosure, crate, or cage with a sexually mature male dog except for the time period that is necessary for breeding the female dog;

(5) Keep or confine a female dog that is nursing in an enclosure, crate, or cage with another adult dog;

(6) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without access to either natural or artificial light during daytime hours;

(7) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage outdoors unless the dog has access at all times to a dry insulated indoor shelter or dog house with clean straw or other nontoxic insulating material in an amount that is sufficient to permit the dog to burrow under the straw or material while at the same time using the straw or material as bedding;

(8) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage if urine or feces have accumulated beyond an amount that is expected to accumulate in a normal 24-hour period or, if the dog is a female dog with a litter, in a normal 12-hour period;

(9) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without access to clean unfrozen water at all times unless the dog is being used for hunting or sledding, in which case access to clean unfrozen water must be provided not less than one time per eight-hour period. Water must be provided to a dog in an open bowl or container that is not a drip bottle or limited intake mechanism.

(10) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without access to adequate and wholesome food on a daily basis so as to ensure a proper and healthy weight unless medically contraindicated;

(11) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage with flooring material that is incapable of being cleaned or sanitized or that is likely to cause injury to the pads of a dog's feet;

(12) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without providing a solid, nonporous surface, free from moisture or feces, that comprises at least 50% of the floor of the enclosure, crate, or cage. The solid surface may include soft bedding. Female dogs with litters and puppies 12 weeks of age or less must be housed in an enclosure, crate, or cage with a solid, nonporous surface, free from moisture or feces, that comprises 100% of the floor of the enclosure, crate, or cage. Nonporous surfaces cannot be made of metal.

(13) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage in unsanitary conditions;

(14) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage that is in contact with or in the immediate vicinity of any animal with a diagnosed or suspected disease that is contagious to dogs;

(15) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without adequate ventilation;

(16) Keep or confine a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage without providing shelter from the elements;

(17) Keep or confine a dog in an outdoor run or kennel where shade is not provided during the months of May through September. The shade so provided must provide a reduction of temperature of at least five degrees from nonshaded areas.

(18) Keep or confine a dog in an indoor enclosure, crate, or cage where the temperature is below 50 degrees Fahrenheit or over 90 degrees Fahrenheit;

(19) Fail to equip a kennel with a smoke alarm and provide a means of fire suppression such as a sprinkler system or fire extinguishers in all kennel housing units;

(20) Fail to keep the area around a kennel in good repair, clean, and free from accumulations of junk, waste products, and discarded materials to protect dogs from injury and to prevent infestation by rodents or other pests. Weeds, grasses, bushes, and trees must be controlled at the property on which a kennel is located to allow for effective pest control and to protect the health and safety of the dogs that are housed at the kennel.

(39) Keep a dog in an enclosure, crate, or cage that includes exposed metal caging without a protective plastic or rubber coating.

Certain of the above prohibitions regarding confinement do not apply during the temporary transportation of a dog from one location to another location. (R.C. 956.08.)

Inspectors and Inspections

The bill requires the director of the Kennel Control Authority to appoint kennel control enforcement inspectors for the purpose of enforcing the requirements and standards established by the bill and rules adopted under it and to act as authorized agents of the Authority. Inspectors serve at the pleasure of the director and are employees of the Authority. Inspectors may issue citations and orders that are necessary to enforce the bill and rules adopted under it. The director must provide each kennel control enforcement inspector with an identifying badge and an official uniform. An inspector must have training in animal husbandry, kennel management, record keeping, and first aid. (R.C. 956.09.)

At least once biennially, the director or the director's authorized representative must inspect a regulated dog breeding kennel that is subject to licensure under the bill and rules adopted under it to ensure compliance with the bill and rules, including, but not limited to, the standards of care established by the bill. In addition, upon a complaint, the director may inspect an animal rescue for dogs to ensure compliance with the bill and rules adopted under it, including, but not limited to, the standards of care established by the bill. Inspections must be conducted without prior notification to the licensee or persons associated with the licensee. In addition, upon the request of a member of the public, a public official, an animal rescue for dogs, or an animal shelter for dogs, the director or the director's authorized representative must inspect any facility at which a person is acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary to ensure such compliance. The director or the director's authorized representative must inspect a boarding kennel when the director or the director's authorized representative has received information that the boarding kennel is breeding dogs and is subject to licensure under the bill and rules adopted under it.

Inspections must be conducted in accordance with rules adopted under the bill. A record of each inspection must be made by the inspector who is responsible for the inspection in accordance with those rules. (R.C. 956.10(A).)

Under the bill, the director or the director's authorized representative, upon proper identification and upon stating the purpose and necessity of an inspection, may enter at reasonable times on any public or private property, real or personal, to inspect or investigate and to examine or copy records in order to determine compliance with the bill and rules adopted under it. The director, the director's authorized representative, or the Attorney General upon the request of the director may apply to the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court for an appropriate court order or search warrant as necessary to achieve the purposes of the bill and rules adopted under it. A judge of that court may issue such a warrant. (R.C. 956.10(B).)

The bill prohibits an owner or operator of a regulated dog breeding kennel, person acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary, owner or operator of an animal rescue for dogs, or owner or operator of a boarding kennel from interfering with an inspection or refusing to allow an inspector full access to all areas where dogs are kept or cared for. If entry is refused or inspection or investigation is refused, hindered, or thwarted by a regulated dog breeding kennel, regulated dog intermediary, or animal rescue for dogs, the director may suspend or revoke the kennel's, intermediary's, or rescue's license in accordance with the bill. (R.C. 956.10(C).)

If entry that is authorized by the bill is refused or if an inspection or investigation is refused, hindered, or thwarted by intimidation or otherwise and if the director, an authorized representative of the director, or the Attorney General applies for and obtains a court order or a search warrant under the bill to conduct the inspection or investigation, the owner or operator of the premises where entry was refused or inspection or investigation was refused, hindered, or thwarted is liable to the director for the reasonable costs incurred by the director for the regular salaries and fringe benefit costs of personnel assigned to conduct the inspection or investigation from the time the entry, inspection, or investigation was refused, hindered, or thwarted until the court order or search warrant is executed; for the salary, fringe benefits, and travel expenses of the director, an authorized representative of the director, or the Attorney General incurred in obtaining the court order or search warrant; and for expenses necessarily incurred for the assistance of local law enforcement officers in executing the court order or search warrant. In the application for a court order or a search warrant, the director, the director's authorized representative, or the Attorney General may request and the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court, in its order granting the court order or search warrant, may order the owner or operator of the premises to reimburse the director for any of those costs that the court finds reasonable. From money so recovered under the bill, the director must reimburse the Attorney General for the costs incurred by the Attorney General in connection with proceedings for obtaining the court order or search warrant, must reimburse the political subdivision in which the premises is located for the assistance of its law enforcement officers in executing the court order or search warrant, and must deposit the remainder in the state treasury to the credit of the Regulated Dog Breeding Kennel Control License Fund created by the bill. (R.C. 956.10(D).)

The bill requires a dog warden or an agent of a humane society entering on public or private property to make investigations and inspections under their authorizing statutes to report any violations of the bill and rules adopted under it to the director or a kennel control enforcement inspector and authorizes them to examine and copy any records that are required to be maintained in rules adopted under the bill (R.C. 956.10(E)).

Impoundment

Under the bill, the director of the Kennel Control Authority or the director's authorized representative may impound a dog if the director or the director's authorized representative has probable cause to believe that the dog is being kept by a regulated dog breeding kennel, regulated dog intermediary, or animal rescue for dogs in a manner that materially violates the bill or rules adopted under it and if the dog's health or safety appears to be in imminent danger. The director or the director's authorized representative must give written notice of the impoundment by posting a notice on the door of the premises from which the dog was taken or by otherwise posting the notice in a conspicuous place at the premises from which the dog was taken. The notice must provide a date for an adjudication hearing, which must take place not later than five business days after the dog is taken and at which the director must determine if the dog should be permanently relinquished to the custody of the Kennel Control Authority. (R.C. 956.11(A) and (B).)

The owner or operator of the applicable regulated dog breeding kennel, the person acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary, or the owner or operator of the applicable animal rescue for dogs may appeal the determination made at the adjudication hearing in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, except that the appeal may only be made to the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court. If a dog has been impounded and the owner or operator of the applicable regulated dog breeding kennel, the person acting as or performing the functions of a regulated dog intermediary, or the owner or operator of the applicable animal rescue for dogs appeals the determination made at an adjudication hearing, that person must file an appeal bond that is sufficient to cover the costs of keeping, housing, and maintaining the dog in a manner and amount to be determined by the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court. (R.C. 956.11(C).)

The director may enter into contracts or agreements with an animal rescue for dogs, an animal shelter for dogs, a boarding kennel, a veterinarian, a dog warden, or a humane society for the purpose of keeping, housing, and maintaining dogs that are impounded under the bill. If, after the final disposition of an adjudication hearing and any appeals from that adjudication hearing, it is determined that a dog must be permanently relinquished to the custody of the Kennel Control Authority, the dog may be adopted directly from the animal rescue for dogs, animal shelter for dogs, boarding kennel, veterinarian, dog warden, or humane society where it is being kept, housed, and maintained, provided that the dog has been spayed or neutered unless there are medical reasons against spaying or neutering as determined by a veterinarian. The animal rescue for dogs, animal shelter for dogs, boarding kennel, veterinarian, dog warden, or humane society may charge a reasonable adoption fee, which must be at least sufficient to cover the costs of spaying or neutering the dog unless it is medically contraindicated. (R.C. 956.11(D).)

Registration of litters

The bill prohibits a regulated dog breeding kennel from selling or otherwise transferring a puppy that is less than 90 days old without registering the litter in which the puppy was born with the director of the Kennel Control Authority in accordance with rules adopted under the bill and paying a registration fee of $25 per litter. The prohibition does not apply to an animal rescue for dogs or an animal shelter for dogs. (R.C. 956.20.)

Pet stores; other sales of dogs

Pet stores

The bill requires a pet store at the time of the sale of a dog and in accordance with rules adopted under the bill, to provide the buyer of the dog with either of the following:

(1) A certificate of medical health that has been completed and attested to by a veterinarian and that states that the veterinarian has examined the dog and has not found evidence of disease, illness, or injury at the time of the examination; or

(2) A money-back guarantee that is valid for not less than 21 days after the date of purchase of the dog. The guarantee must authorize the purchaser of the dog to receive the purchase price of the dog from the pet store within that 21-day period if the purchaser presents a statement to the pet store from a veterinarian who has examined the dog within 14 days of the purchase of the dog that the dog has a significant disease, illness, or injury that was in existence at the time of the purchase of the dog. (R.C. 956.19(A).) Under the bill, "pet store" means a retail store that sells dogs to the public (R.C. 956.01(K)).

A pet store must post written notice of the pet store's responsibility under the bill in a conspicuous location near the pet store's cash register. The written notice must be posted in accordance with rules and must be in prominent and easily read type that is not less than 18-point type. (R.C. 956.19(B).)

At a time prior to the sale of a dog, a pet store must provide the name, complete address, and telephone number of the breeder that bred the dog, the regulated dog breeding kennel where the dog was kept, housed, and maintained, and the regulated dog intermediary from whom the pet store acquired the dog, as applicable. The pet store also must provide the telephone number and address of the Kennel Control Authority. (R.C. 956.19(C).)

Under the bill, a pet store that fails to comply with item (1), above, with respect to the sale of a dog or a pet store that fails to refund the purchase price of a dog in accordance with item (2), above, is liable to the purchaser of the dog for an amount that is equal to the actual damages incurred by the purchaser within one year after the date of the purchase of the dog, except that veterinary expenses are limited to not more than $500. The pet store also is liable for any attorney's fees and costs incurred by the purchaser. In addition, the buyer of the dog may keep the dog. (R.C. 956.19(E).)

The bill prohibits a pet store from failing to comply with the bill's requirements governing pet stores (R.C. 956.19(D)). It requires the director of the Kennel Control Authority or the director's authorized representative to enforce those requirements. Kennel control enforcement inspectors may make inspections of pet stores for the purpose of enforcing the bill. (R.C. 956.19(F).)

Other sales of dogs

The bill prohibits anyone, on and after the bill's effective date, from selling a dog at a flea market, market day, garage sale, conference, or other public place other than at a pet store that is licensed under the bill as a regulated dog intermediary. However, the prohibition does not prohibit the sale of dogs by a licensed regulated dog breeding kennel or licensed regulated dog intermediary at the location that is listed as the address of the kennel or intermediary on the applicable license application submitted by or on behalf of the kennel or intermediary.

Additionally, the bill prohibits anyone, on and after 270 days after the bill's effective date, from selling a dog at an auction or conducting an auction for the purpose of selling dogs. However, it prohibits an out-of-state resident from selling a dog at an auction conducted in Ohio on and after the bill's effective date.

The bill states that all of the above prohibitions do not apply to adoption events that are held by an animal rescue for dogs or an animal shelter for dogs. (R.C. 956.081.)

Enforcement

Prohibition; criminal penalty

The bill prohibits anyone from violating the bill or a rule adopted or order issued under it (R.C. 956.98). Violation is a first degree misdemeanor (R.C. 956.99). The bill establishes other enforcement mechanisms as discussed below.

Citations and orders

Under the bill, if the director of the Kennel Control Authority or the director's authorized representative determines that a person has violated, is violating, or is threatening to violate the bill or rules adopted under it, the director may issue and cause to be served by certified mail or personal service a citation of violation and an order requiring the person to cease the acts or practices appearing to the director or the director's authorized representative to constitute a violation or requiring the person to take corrective actions to eliminate the conditions appearing to constitute a violation. The order must state specifically the provision or provisions of the bill or the rule or rules adopted under it that appear to the director or the director's authorized representative to have been violated or threatened to be violated and the facts constituting the violation or threatened violation, the actions that the person must take to correct the deficiencies, and the time period within which the person must correct the violations. (R.C. 956.12.)

Civil penalty

The bill authorizes the director of the Kennel Control Authority to assess a civil penalty against a person violating the bill or rules adopted under it if all of the following occur:

(1) The person has received an order and been notified of the violation by certified mail as required by the bill;

(2) After the time period for correcting the violation specified in the order has elapsed, the director or the director's authorized representative has inspected the premises where the violation has occurred and determined that the violation has not been corrected, and the director has issued a notice of an adjudication hearing as discussed below; and

(3) The director affords the person an opportunity for an adjudication hearing under the Administrative Procedure Act to challenge the director's determination that the person is not in compliance with the bill or rules adopted under it, the imposition of the civil penalty, or both. A person may waive the opportunity for an adjudication hearing.

If the opportunity for an adjudication hearing is waived or if, after an adjudication hearing, the director determines that a violation of the bill or a rule adopted under it has occurred or is occurring, the director may assess a civil penalty. The civil penalty may be appealed in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, except that the civil penalty may only be appealed to the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court.

Civil penalties must be assessed in the following amounts:

(1) A person who has operated a regulated dog breeding kennel, acted as or performed the functions of a regulated dog intermediary, or operated an animal rescue for dogs without the required license must pay a civil penalty in an amount that is equal to two times the amount of the license fee that should have been paid by the person under the bill.

(2) A person who is licensed and who has violated any of the state, municipal, or federal laws prohibiting animal cruelty, animal fighting, or domestic violence that are specified by the bill (see above) must pay a civil penalty of not more than $15,000.

(3) A person who has violated any other provision of the bill or rules adopted under it, including, but not limited to, the standards of care established by the bill, must pay a civil penalty of $25.

Each day that a violation continues constitutes a separate violation. (R.C. 956.13.)

Injunctions

The Attorney General, upon the request of the director of the Kennel Control Authority, may bring an action for injunction against a person who has violated, is violating, or is threatening to violate the bill, rules adopted under it, or an order issued under it. An action for injunction must be filed in the Environmental Division of the Franklin County Municipal Court, which has exclusive jurisdiction to grant preliminary and permanent injunctive relief under the bill. That court must grant such injunctive relief upon a showing that the person against whom the action is brought has violated, is violating, or is threatening to violate the bill, rules adopted under it, or an order issued under it. The court must give precedence to such an action over all other cases. (R.C. 956.14.)

Hearings--witnesses, subpoenas

The bill authorizes the director of the Kennel Control Authority, the director's authorized representative, or the Attorney General to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, records, papers, and dogs that are needed either by the director or the Attorney General or by any party to a hearing before the director and for that purpose may issue a subpoena for any witness or a subpoena duces tecum to compel the production of any books, records, papers, or dogs. The subpoena must be served by personal service or by certified mail. If the subpoena is returned because of inability to deliver, or if no return is received within 30 days after the date of mailing, the subpoena may be served by ordinary mail. If no return of ordinary mail is received within 30 days after the date of mailing, service must be deemed to have been made. If the subpoena is returned because of inability to deliver, the director or the Attorney General may designate a person or persons to effect either personal or residence service on the witness. The person so designated may be the sheriff of the county in which the witness resides or may be found or any other duly designated person. The fees and mileage of the person serving the subpoena must be the same as those allowed by the courts of common pleas in criminal cases and must be paid from the funds of the Authority. Fees and mileage for the witness must be the same as those allowed for witnesses by the courts of common pleas in criminal cases and must be paid from the funds of the Authority upon request of the witness following the hearing. (R.C. 956.16.)

Kennel Control Authority Board

The bill creates the Kennel Control Authority Board consisting of one member of the Senate appointed by the President of the Senate, one member of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the following seven members appointed by the Governor:

- (1) Two members representing animal care and welfare organizations in Ohio;

- (2) One member who is a county dog warden;
- (3) One member who is a veterinarian;
- (4) One member representing pet stores in Ohio that are licensed under the bill as regulated dog breeding kennels or regulated dog breeding intermediaries;
- (5) One member who is a member in good standing of a national breed parent club of the American Kennel Club; and
- (6) One member representing the public.

Initial appointments to the Board must be made not later than 60 days after the bill's effective date. Terms of office of the members appointed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives must coincide with their terms of office as members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, as applicable. The bill provides for staggered three-year terms for the members who are appointed by the Governor. Members may be reappointed. The bill establishes standard procedures for the filling of vacancies.

The Governor must select a chairperson from among the Board's members. A majority of the members constitutes a quorum. The Board must meet at least four times a year in Columbus or at other locations selected by the chairperson. The chairperson must determine the agenda for each meeting. However, if the member appointed by the President of the Senate and the member appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives jointly request in writing that an item be placed on the agenda for a meeting, the chairperson must place the item on the agenda at the Board's next regularly scheduled meeting occurring more than ten days after the request has been made.

Members of the Board must serve without compensation for attending Board meetings, but must be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of official duties as members of the Board.

The bill requires the Board to provide oversight and evaluation of the administration of the bill and rules adopted under it, including the operation of the Kennel Control Authority. The oversight and evaluation may include, but not be limited to, a determination of whether the bill and rules adopted under it and the operation of the Authority have resulted in the prevention of cruelty to and abuse of dogs and an evaluation of the sanctions imposed on violators of the bill and rules adopted under it. In addition, the Board may make recommendations to the director of the Authority for changes to the administration of the bill and rules adopted under it and to the General Assembly for changes to the bill that the Board considers necessary for the effective enforcement of the bill and rules adopted under it. The Board may inspect records kept by the Authority and may interview kennel control enforcement inspectors. Finally, the Board, by December 31 each year, must issue a report of its findings and submit it to the Authority, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. (R.C. 956.18.)

Regulated Dog Breeding Kennel Control License Fund

All money collected by the director of the Kennel Control Authority from license and registration fees under the bill and all money collected from civil penalties assessed under the bill must be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the Regulated Dog Breeding Kennel Control License Fund, which the bill creates. The director must use money in the Fund for the purpose of administering the bill and rules adopted under it. (R.C. 956.17.) The bill states that it is the intent of the General Assembly to appropriate money to the Fund to enable the Authority to begin administering the bill and rules adopted under it (Section 3).
